GENERAL

Excel Program Inventions (EPI) and you (herein after referred to as the "end user") agree that the following terms and conditions will apply to the EPI licensed programs listed above. These programs are licensed by this agreement. This is a license agreement and not an agreement for sale. This license grants the end user the non exclusive right of limited use. EPI retains title to and ownership of the copies of the programs and related documentation and any copies made from them.

You agree to pay EPI the non refundable single license fee. EPI authorizes the operation of the above listed program(s) subject to the terms and conditions herein to convert the end users (your) own proprietary source applications maintained at a single (one) end user site or location on the designated machine. You certify you are the legal owner of the designated machine or legal lease holder thereof. Whereas the source applications to be converted must not be imported from or disseminated to any other site or location. This is a single site license, source code maintained at additional sites or locations is subject to independent licensing arrangements and fees.

EPI agrees to provide the end user with the object code and related documentation for the listed programs to enable the end user to operate the EPI supplied programs on the designated machine. EPI further agrees to provide the end user with product technical support for the EPI supplied programs. This does not include project consulting support, it is solely the end user's responsibility to provide the necessary staff and prerequisite programming skills to facilitate the conversion of the end user's applications using the EPI supplied programs/s on the designated machine

TERMINATION

The term of this agreement will extend from the date that this agreement is signed by EPI. This agreement will terminate on the expiration of the specified term. On the expiration of the initial term the end user may request an extension of the license term from EPI. Any such "reasonable request" for an extension will be granted solely at the discretion of EPI and in writing.

On the termination of this agreement all related materials deemed proprietary or confidential supplied to the end user by EPI will be returned to EPI. The end user further agrees to cease to use and to erase/remove all electronic copies of the EPI supplied programs for and from the designated machine on the termination of this agreement and confirm such action to EPI in writing.

The end user acknowledges that, in the event of a breach of any of the provisions of this agreement by the end user, EPI will be entitled to terminate this agreement forthwith without prior notification. The end user further acknowledges that in the event of such breach EPI will not have an adequate remedy in money or damages. EPI shall therefore be entitled to obtain an injunction against such breach from a court of competent jurisdiction immediately on request. EPI's right to obtain injunctive relief shall not limit its right to seek further remedies.

LIMITATIONS

The end user may not reverse compile or reproduce any of the EPI supplied programs in part or in whole in printed form or any other non-machine readable form.

The end user acknowledges that the operation of the EPI supplied programs in part or whole is strictly restricted to converting their own proprietary source applications maintained at a single end user site or location.

The end user may not duplicate any portion of the EPI supplied programs for any reason other than for backup purposes.

The end user may not sub-license any license.

The end user may not operate any part of the EPI supplied programs on any machine other than the designated machine without first obtaining the prior written approval of EPI.

The rights, privileges and obligations under the provisions of this agreement may not be transferred or re-assigned.

In the event ownership of the designated machine changes or the lease thereof terminates you agree to remove and erase all copies of the EPI licensed software for and from the designated system prior to any such change coming into affect.

The end user will have no authority to enter into or sign any license or any other agreement in EPI's name.

The end user agrees not to advertise the EPI supplied programs or related services without first obtaining EPI's prior written approval.

The end user will take reasonable precautions with respect to any persons permitted access to the EPI programs to satisfy their obligations under the terms and conditions of this agreement.
